KALBA ICE FACTORY

LOCATION

An aging structure located on the city's outskirts, Kalba Ice Factory was originally built in the 1970s for fish feed production and ice storage. Recently, it was renovated by Lima architects 1-51 Arquitectos. Visitors access the premises through a colonnade, transitioning from the expansive scale of the building to a smaller, more contemporary entrance. The entrance to the guest retreat is discreet: a courtyard landscaped with desert flora leads to private rooms with views overlooking the mangroves.

The space is ideal for a variety of events and activities, including large-scale lectures, panels, conferences and performances. It serves as an excellent venue for film screenings, community events, receptions, corporate events, private parties and meditation or yoga sessions. The striking backdrop of the factory makes it perfect for photography sessions and film productions.
